The German partner university shall inform about the planned study program in an email to the director (director@aps-india.de) of APS India and must attach a copy of the partnership agreement detailing the scope of cooperation with the Indian university.

The Application requirements for “Process-P” are as follows:

- Students who have been granted admission to German universities for a long-term (double) degree program within the framework of an Indo-German university cooperation are eligible to apply for APS Process-P.
- Applicants for the Process-P are selected in India by German university representatives based on a subject knowledge test through an interview. Telephonic interviews and video conferences with Indian applicants via Skype or similar video software are not recognized.
- The selection procedure by the German university must not be older than six months at the time of submission of application.
- The minutes of the selection process must be recorded either in English or German language. The protocol form can be downloaded from the APS India website. The subject specific selection process must be recorded in detail on the protocol form. Based on the protocol and submitted documents, APS reserves the right to dispense with an individual APS interview. The minutes along with the required documents must be submitted to APS via email or post.

Application Procedure:

1. Application through the German Partner University:

The German partner university must inform the APS via email (director@aps-india.de) about the details of the partnership co-operation agreement with the reciprocal Indian university (MOU). A list of the selected candidates for this partnership program must be submitted. APS will then assign a group number to the German university.

2. Online-Registration:

Selected students must register on the APS website using the group number under category 'Process P.', through which they can later access their profile on the APS India website. Each student must print and personally sign the completed application form, which then must be attached to the individual student's application submitted by the university to APS.
